FCC

Subject: GPS Signal Degradation

The use of GPS has become integrated into every aspect of our modern world. The idea that any corporation would be allowed to disrupt this service, that is needed by everyone from emergency first responders and airline pilots, to pizza delivery boys, is unimaginable. I ask that the FCC deny LightSquared’s request to use GPS-adjacent bandwidth, and degrade GPS reliability with their much stronger signal.

Sincerely,
Matt Sargent